TROOPERS ENGAGE IN AFFRAY AND ARE LOCKED UP.

Patrick Flannigan's Narrow Escape From Death-John F. Blundon's Funeral-Personal Items.

An affray in which two troopers from the barracks at Fort Myer participated occurred yesterday evening in a saloon on M street in Georgetown. The principals were James Montgomery and James Taylor. The police say that the two young men came over to Georgetown for a "good time," and after consuming a quantity of intoxicants dropped into Kelliher's saloon and ordered more drinks. A dispute arose between the two men and they were making a pretty lively showing when Kelliher, the proprietor, attempted to quiet the proceedings. The two soldiers resented his interference, and the result was a demand for police assistance. Officer G. V. Johnston of the seventh precinct put a stop to the brawl and lodged the "two Jimmies" in a cell at

According to the police, Taylor was largely responsible for the trouble, and charges f assault and battery and disorderly conduct were lodged against him, Montgomery was charged with disorderly conduct. Both will appear in Police Court tomorrow morn-

Narrow Escape.

Patrick Flannigan, a resident of Rosslyn, Va., narrowly escaped being killed while walking along the tracks of the Washington and Falls Church railway about 9 o'clock last evening. He was not very far from the passenger station, just across the bridge, when some man saw him, apparently in an intoxicated condition, staggering on the tracks in the glare of the headlight of the rapidly approaching car, and an effort was made to warn him of his danger. Flannigan was struck by the car and thrown forward upon the tracks, strik-ing his forehead and causing an ugly wound. In charge of Officer Hall of the seventh precinct he was conveyed to the Georgetown University Hospital in an ambulance, and after being treated there was locked up in a cell at the station house. Funeral of John F. Blundon.

Impressive feuneral services over the remains of John F. Blundon, one of the most prominent citizens of Georgetown, whose death resulting from typhoid fever occurred last Wednesday, were held at the family residence, 3900 T street northwest. at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. James J. Bric, assistant paster of Hely Trinity Church, officiated, and interment was in Oak Hill cemetery. Three sons and three brothers of the deceased served as pallbearers. They were F. A. Blundon, R. B. Blundon, W. B. Blundon, sons, and Joseph A. Blundon, B. A. Blundon and William E. Blundon, brothers. The deceased was sixty-two years of age and had lived in Georgetown a quarter of a century, having followed the vocation of a contractor and builder. A great many elegant and costly homes throughout the western section of the city were constructed and planned by him. He married early in life and his three sons are prominently identified with the business interests of Washington. His wife, Mrs. Fannle Blundon, three sons, two daughters and three brothers survive him. Mr. Blundon's illness lasted but ten days

The news of the death came as a shock to his family, who confidently expected his

EX-SENATOR THURSTON SAYS

THERE ARE OTHERS AS BAD.

Special Dispatch to The Star. NEW YORK, August 19.-Ex-United States Senator John M. Thurston returned to New York today from Portland, Ore., where he defended United States Senator John M. Mitchell in the land fraud cases. Mr. Thurston made it plain that he is still hopeful of upsetting the conviction of his elient. Incidentally he intimated that if the government had begun prosecution on the same charges a few years ago, many prominent men of the west might have

Mitchell. "While I do not like to discuss cases in which I am interested." He said, "I feel quite hopeful of obtaining a reversal of the verdict against Senator Mitchell when the case, which has been appealed to the United States Supreme Court, is opened again next spring. There are several points on which I believe we can obtain this reversal. One of these is the wording of the indictment returned against Senator Mitchell, which should specify the particu-lar crime with which he is charged. This

It does not do." Another technicality which ex-Senator Thurston says may gain reversal of the verdict is the fact that under the statue of limitations the alleged crime was outlawed before the indictment was returned.

THE FEVER SITUATION

Yellow Plague Yielding to Scientific Campaign.

THE OFFICIAL FIGURES

COMPARED WITH SCOURGE OF 1878 DEATH LIST IS LOW.

Effect of Radical Quarantine Regulations-New Orleans Merchants Victims of Unfair Stories.

New Orleans Official Report to 6 P.M.

New cases, 56. Total cases to date, 1,340. Deaths, 4. Total deaths to date, 192 New foci, 17. Total foci to date, 295, Cases under treatment, 401.

NEW ORLEANS, August 19 .- Beyond the statement that the daily figures continue to present evidence that the modern scientific campaign in progress is controlling yellow fever, the officers in charge of the work had no comment to make today. Compared with the yellow fever scourge of 1878, the death list of the present visitation is low. In 1878 there were ninety fatalities a day after the fever had run as long as at present.

Today's heat, following an intensely of the disease. Surgeon T. D. Berry of the marine hospital service today left his room, recovered after ten days from his second attack of vellow fever.

Suspicious Cases Reported. A case was reported today near Madisonville, a summer resort of St. Tammany parish, on the other side of Lake Pontchartrain. A positive case and a suspicious case were reported at Kenner, ten miles from New Orleans, in Jefferson parish.

A total of eighteen cases have appeared in Jefferson parish to date, with five deaths. The Louisville and Nashville railroad anounced today that the new quarantine or der issued by Dr. Sanders of Alabama would not in anywise interfere with through travel over that road. The board of trade today sent the following telegram to Surgeon General Wyman:

Unfair Work of Competitors.

"Simply in the interest of fair play and honest dealing, and because merchants of competitive cities are telling our customers that our goods are unsafe, we ask you kindly to give detailed answer to the following: Is there any risk involved in outside points receiving goods shipped from New Orleans under the precautionary rules of your service, and is it not a fact that goods of any kind, per se, cannot carry in-

Surgeon General Wyman answered: "Merchandise of any kind, per se, cannot carry infection of yellow fever. It must harbor infected mosquitoes to do so." This Saturday's record presents quite a ontrast when compared with that of a week ago, when 105 cases were reported. It has never reached that figure before and it is believed now that the record will stand. The deaths continue few, which indicates that the patients under treatment are re-covering more generally than heretofore. There was no news of special importance from outside the city today, only two new points of infection being reported, one case in Madisonville, in St. Tammany parsh, and the other at Kenner, in Jefferson parish. The case at Madisonville is traced directly to New Orleans.

Patterson reports seven new cases and no No new cases developed at Sarpy (Terre Haute) nor have any new cases been heard from at the other points in St. Charles

Dr. Gustine, health officer at Kenner, also reported that there were all told nine posi-tive cases at Hamson City, which is three miles above Kenner. They are all Italians but one.

Dr. Wasdin reports that there have been no new cases at Mississippi City.

Four New Cases at Mississippi City. JACKSON, Miss. August 19.-Secretary Hunter of the state board of health received a report from Mississippi City tonight stating that there are four new suspicious cases of fever there, located about one mile from the town. They will not be diagnosed until tomorrow. Among the early victims of the yellow fever at Mississippi City was Mrs. H. D. Money, wife of United States Senator Money. She had a mild case and is now entirely recovered.

Conference Over Regulations in a Tennessee Town.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., August 19.-Governor Cox arrived here today from Nashville and held a conference with Secretary Albright of the state board of health regarding the quarantine now existing at Grand Junction, in Hardeman county. That village has imposed such drastic restrictions that passengers cannot be transferred from one train to another.

Dr. Albright, acting for the state board, instructed that passengers should be allowed to transfer under proper precautions, explaining that the state board was paramount in such matters. It is understood that the Grand Junction authorities ignored the order. Governor Cox and Dr. Albright left for Grand Junction later in the day and efforts will be made to adjust the matter. Should these efforts prove futile, it is reported here that the governor will send a body of militia to Grand Junction, declare martial law, and enforce the regu-lations of the state board of health.

Only Case of Malaria.

JACKSON, Miss., August 19.-Dr. Krauss, vellow fever expert attached to the state board of health, went to Starkville, Miss., yesterday to investigate the suspicious case of fever there. He reported today that the patient was suffering from malarial hematuria fever. Mississippi City reports no new cases.

Effort to Raise Quarantine Failed. Special Dispatch to The Star.

NORFOLK, Va., August 19.-At a meeting of the Elizabeth river district quarantine board here this afternoon the question of raising the local quarantine put in ef-fect as a result of the yellow fever situa-tion in view of the state border quarantines came up, but a resolution proposing the raising of the district quarantine was fought, vigorously and received not one vote.
The railroads wanted the local quarantine raised, but lost out. An Italian who just arrived in Norfolk county from Gulfport, Miss., will be kept in an isolated house for six days. Suspect Detained at Portsmouth.

Special Dispatch to The Star. PORTSMOUTH, Va., August 19.-Michael Pattrona, a yellow fever suspect, is confined in the station house in this city. Pattrona was arrested this morning upon instruction of Dr. C. T. Parrish, who is quarantine inspector of the incoming trains of the Seaboard Airline railway. Pattrona is from Gulfport, Miss., and he says he left there for Portsmouth Thursday night last. He has a health certificate given him by the authorities of Gulfport, but notwithstanding that, and in view of the limitations the alleged crime was outlawed before the indictment was returned.

Squadron A Wins Polo Match.

NEWPORT, R. I., August 19.—In the final polo mutch today for the Brenton Reef cups aguadron A of New York won from the squadron A of New York won from the page and to a clip where yellow fever is prevalent. Dr. Parrish stated that while Michael patterns a belief to arrive at Georgetown to await developments.

Gulfport is about seventy miles from New York won from the page and the coal chutes decome Zacheus Sherman, which unloaded a cargo of ice here, was yesterday taken to Georgetown and went under the coal chutes to load a cargo of about 1,200 tons for Boston. She will be followed by several of the large vessels and the circumstances deems it best to hold Michael for four days.

POPE WILL APPOINT ANOTHER AMERICAN APOSTOLIC DELEGATE

Special Cablegram to The Star. ROME, August 19.-It is already settled that the pope will appoint another American archbishop to succeed the late Mgr Chapelle as apostolic delegate in Cuba and Porto Rico. Such arrangement, instead of sending a prelate from Rome, will save the Vatican the expense of maintaining a special envoy in the islands and will be just as efficient for the administration of the church in both places. It is highly probable that Archbishop Farley of New York will be selected for the office, as it is understood here that it is easier to go to Cuba and Porto Rico from New York than from any other see on the Atlantic coast. It is for the same rea-son that the archbishop of New York has been given spiritual jurisdiction over the Bahama Islands, although they are Eng-

Three Names to Be Submitted. The selection of the new archbishop for New Orleans will not be proceeded with until after the archbishops of the United States shall have met and selected three names to submit to the propaganda. It is the general opinion here that Mgr. Broderick, formerly auxiliary bishop of Havana, stands a good chance to obtain the appointment, as he is at present the only bishop in America without a diocese. It is also known that it is the firm in tention of the authorities at the propaganda to nominate in the future only native-born Americans for American sees, and this will probably be done in the case of New Orleans. Mgr. Rouxel, auxiliary New Orleans. blshop of that city, was appointed without the right of succession and will, in all probability, continue in the same position under the new archbishop.

INDIANS AS GUESTS

warm night, added little to the progress PARTY OF FIVE QUARTERED AT POLICE STATION.

> Five full-blooded Indians, absolute strangers in the city, made a wigwam of the first precinct station house last night. Reaching Washington without wampumor the modern filthy lucre-the native Amerleans applied to the police for lodging for the night. After a consultation the authorities accommodated them, and two of the witness rooms in the first precinct station were made the resting place of the party of five.

About 10 o'clock last night a number of persons gathered about No. 1 police station were startled by a "whoop" and soon afterward saw a crowd approaching. In the foreground were five Indians, and those in the crowd at the station began to look for places of retreat. Sergeant Lohman, who was on reserve duty, was called to the

As the sergeant peered out at the front his gaze fell upon the five persons on the sidewalk. He rubbed his eyes, to make sure he was awake, and wondered if he had eaten a Welsh rarebit. Soon, ever, the party of five entered and he fell back to receive them.

It was a picturesque group, those five. In front were two tail, strongly-built red men and behind stood two squaws. One of the squaws was carrying a papoose. All greater p were dressed in their Indian costumes, with as slaves. strings of beads in profusion, mocassins on their feet and lacking only the war paint to make them wholly like the original aborigines. A curious crowd was following. Upon questioning one of the males it was learned that the five had been connected with Buffalo Bill's wild west show, which is now in Europe, and that they left the show at Paris and were on their way to said, and, in addition to the relegates, there an Indian reservation in South Dakota, are their wives and daughters, all taking They appeared to have more than the ordinary intelligence of their race and one spoke fairly good English.

It was also learned that there was another member of the party, a "heap big chief," who sought quarters elsewhere. While these five who applied at the sta-tion had no money, the chief had 70 cents, which he used in getting quarters for himself in a lodging house. When the five asked for lodging it was suggested that the two squaws and the little papoose be sent to the House of Deten-"No," said the two husbands with emphasis. They were not willing to have their wives separated from them, and nothing could change the decision. The authorities at the first precinct station were at first undecided what to do, but after a consultation with headquarters the visitors were shown to rooms in the station house, where they spent the night. When they were asked their names they

NUNCIO FOR WASHINGTON. Pope Pius X May Raise Class of Apostolic Delegation.

BOSTON, August 19 .- A Rome special cable tonight says that Pope Plus X is planning to show his appreciation of the development of his church in the United States by appointing, if possible, a papel nuncio to Washington, raising the apostolic delegation now there to a nunciature of the first class, like those of Vienna Madrid and Munich, with a titular invested with the rights and dignity of apostolic nuncio. The question is complicated, however, and the matter is not entirely settled, for according to church traditions nuncios are never sent to foreign countries unless officially credited to the government and unless the same government keeps an ambassador accorded to the vatican. Although not ong ago the United States sent a specia aogent charged with the arrangement of church matter in the Philippines, it is admitted that it would be practically impossible for the United States to maintain an ambossador at the vatican. At the same time it is felt by the church officials that Washington already recognizes in the apostolic delegate there the supreme representative of the Vatican in America, and the question is likely to be solved by the creation of a regular nunciature at Washington, which will act in the name of the supreme head of the church in all mat-ters affecting both church and the United States government, while not being a diplo matic embassy.

Special Dispatch to The Star. FREDERICK, Md., August 19.-The first gun of the political campaign of 1905 in Frederick county was fired at Braddock Heights today, when an all-day picnic and barbecue was held under the auspices of the democratic county central committee of this county.

The occasion was the organization of the democratic county central committee, and, in order to accentuate the indorsement of the Poe disfranchising amendment, the regulars hit upon the plan that was successfully carried out as far as speechmaking, plenty to eat and a general good time are

The organization of the committee took place in the large auditorium at 11:30 o'clock. At that hour the committeemen, representing all of the 200 districts in Fredladies began to prepare dinner.

The committee was called to order by Mr. J. Polk Biser, chairman, and the work of organizing went along in less time than it takes to tell it.

Committee Organization.

Mr. Biser was re-elected chairman, Mr. Joseph Gaver and Mr. Charles C. Waters were made secretaries, and Mr. Charles P. Levy was elected treasurer. Immediately after the committee organized lunch was served in abundant style by a committee of young ladies, assisted by Mr. Henry J. Krise and a committee of young men. At about 2 o'clock the men folks, accompanied by many ladies, met at the audi-torium, where, amid great applause, Gen.

L. V. Baughman presided over the meeting and called it to order. Gen. Baughman, who had just been unan-imously re-elected chairman of the executive committee of the county, after refer ring to the tremendous crowds from Frederick and adjoining counties, which claimed was an evidence of the great interest the people were taking in the most important question ever submitted for consideration by the people of Maryland, said the constitutional amendment was no longer a mere political question, but must be regarded as one of the greatest commercial questions confronting the American people. Already the various universities were dis-cussing the problem as to what was to become of the negro.

Increase of Negroes.

With the present rate of increase the negroes would number 16,000,000 at the end of the present century. At present there are over 9,000,000 of negroes in the United States, 7,000,000 being located in the south. The negro voter not only elected congressmen and governors, but practically elected the President of the United States; hence it was that the republican bosses would never consent to a settlement of this great

The proposed amendment was for the purpose of disfranchising the negroes of Maryland. Every hardship which might accrue to our foreign-born citizens would be righted in time by proper legislation. The adoption of the amendment would in his judgment rebound to the good of all the people of the state and be a blessing to the negroes, who were today held in greater political bondage than they were

At the conclusion of Gen. Baughman's remarks Lloyd Winkinson was introduced, followed by Mr. Goldsborough of Balti-more, Mr. Gordon P. Atkinson, Mr. Frank Crouse and Mr. J. E. R. Wood of this city Gen. Baughman was particularly well part in this great movement of reform. While the big meeting was gotten up as an indorsement of the Poe amendment, many democrats not of that turn of mind were present and enjoyed the ringing speeches.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES

Held Throughout Washington County, Md., Last Night.

Special Dispatch to The Star. HAGERSTOWN, Md., August 19 .- Republicans held primaries throughout Washington county this evening for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention in Hagerstown next Tuesday. Incomplete returns at 10 o'clock tonight indicate that the organization forces controlled the primaries in practically every one of the twenty-five districts. In Hagerstown, George W. Earnshaw, anti-organization candidate for the nomina tion of sheriff, had a ticket in four of the six districts. He lost in all but his own district, where a ticket headed by Mr. Earnshaw's own name defeated the organization ticket headed by former Mayor Henry Holzapfel, jr. Mr. Earnshaw received 100 votes to 98 by Mr. Holzapfel. There were several tie votes in this district, but Mr. Earnshaw will have a ma-jority of the ten delegates. The Earnshaw ticket in the other district in Hagerstown made a poor showing.

Prominent among the aspirants for the sheriffalty nomination besides Mr. Earnshaw are Thomas H. Barber, former sheriff; Samuel P. Angel and D. R. Hager

Hagerstown; Postmaster Lancelot Jacques, Smithsburg; C. C. Dennis, Clark Spring; Isaac Long, Downsville.

All of these will have a fair following at Tuesday's convention. H. A. McComas, brother of former Senator Louis E. McComas, and former State's Attorney Charles D. Wagaman are men-tioned as probable new members of the state central committee for Washington county.

MOTOR CYCLE MEET.

A Performance of Interest on Charles River.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., August 19.-Fred C. Hoyt of Boston rode an exhibition mile at the motor cycle races on the Charles River Park track today in 562-5 seconds, which, although three-fifths of a second behind the world's record of 55 4-5 seconds, held by Albert Champion, was nevertheless a performance of great interest to the spectators. Hoyt rode in the face of a heavy wind, which blew down the track. The races were for the championship of the American Federation of Motor Cyclists, and passed off without any accident:

ENVOYS ANXIOUS FOR HIS MES-

SAGE FROM PRESIDENT. By Associated Press PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 19 .- All hope here that the peace negotiations may velt to M. Witte. This proposition, it is understood, concerns only Russia's position, and, if it shall prove acceptable to Russia, will be presented by M. Witte as soon as it shall have received the sanction of the em-

fastened to the proposition which Baron de

When M. Witte retired tonight he was ignorant of the nature of the proposition. All that he knew about it was the fact that at midnight last night he was aroused by a message from the President brought to him by Assistant Secretary Peirce, requesting that he send immediately to Oyster Bay Baron de Rosen or some other confidential agent of high rank to receive a message of the most confidential nature and of ur-gent importance. M. Witte went at once to Baron de Rosen's room and requested him to go to Oyster Bay at the earliest pos-Late tonight M. Witte was advised by Baron de Rosen that he was leaving Oyster Bay and expected to reach here some time tomorrow morning. The Japanese plent-potentiaries are yet without any official knowledge of Baron de Rosen's visit to Oyster Bay. Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira do not expect that the proposition will come before the conference as a suggestion from the President, but in case it shall be acceptable to Russia they expect to see its effect in a modification of the Russian attitude.

Confidence in Roosevelt.

Japan, it can be stated, must somehow be reimbursed for the cost of the war. Unless the emperor shall change his position, which his plenipotentiaries do not for a moment believe is probable, Russia must yield on article 9 (war indemnity) or Japan will forced to continue the war. The Associated Press is further authorized to say that the Japanese plenipotentiaries have not recommended to their government a retraction of the principle for which the war was fought, and for which Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira have been striving earnestly throughout the conference. Up to midnight neither Baron Komura nor Mr. Takahira had received from the President an invitation to go to Oyster Bay, but it is regarded as not improbable that the President after his conference with Baron de Rosen may desire further information regarding Japan's position in this and to obtain this may request Mr. Takahira to come to Oyster Bay for con-ference. Should such an invitation be received, the minister would leave immediately. Unless, however, the President wishes to know something more about the Japanese demands the members of the Japanese mission here can see no occas-ion for a visit to Oyster Bay by one of their resentment was felt in Japanese circles at Baron de Rosen is authoritatively denounced as false. Indeed, Japan welcomes this final effort of the President to serve the cause of peace. Regarding the President's latest move, a Japanese authority said tonight: "Japan's confidence in President Roosevelt as a great and good friend has been strengthened rather than shaken by his final effort on the eve of what is feared may prove the farewell session of the Washington conference to prevent a rupture. Japan has done her utmost for peace; we believe the President appreciates this, and if he does, any action that he may, in the light of his knowledge, take to serve the cause of peace will find hearty sympathy and support on the part of Japan. The day that Russia realizes that Japan's 'irreducable minimum is irreducible peace will be much nearer.

SEES HOPE FOR RUSSIA

Novoe Vremya Correspondent Comments on Negotiations. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 19 .- Mr. Boris Souvorine, correspondent of the Novoe Vremya, sent today the following dispatch on the situation to his paper; "In all the discussion about the conclupeace either must be implored from one party or proffered by the other. "In the peace conference at Portsmouth there has never been the least sign on the part of Russian plenipotentiaries to implore peace nor on the part of the Japanese to proffer it. This leads me to the conclusion that peace is still a beautiful dream in the distance. Now the grave question to the solution of which the whole world is interested, has entered a new phase. The Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries not having been able to come to an agreement, the decision of the question has been transferred from Portsmouth to St. Petersburg and Tokyo. This, however will not ameliorate the situation. According to my opin-ion, it is impossible to think that Japan will be more moderate. I do not speak of article 10 (interned Russian warships) and article 11 (limitation of the Russian naval power in the far east) on which Japan does not need to insist.

"It is enough to glance at the mapto see that Vladivostok, surrounded by Sakhalin, Japan and Korea, fortified, will never play an important part as a naval port. Be-sides, when will Russia be in a position to send to the far east a squadron which may rival the Japanese fleet? Also the question of delivering to Japan the Russian ships interned in neutral ports is not, according to my view, of serious importance to Japan if she insists upon having an enormous war indemnity. Instead, these two questions have a capital importance for Russia as they wound her amour proper. I therefore come to the conclusion that insisting on the war indemnity and the possession of Sakhalin, Japan can-not very well insist also on the other two above mentioned articles, and receding apparently give proof of great moderation.

"I think St. Petersburg will more energetically than the Russian plenipotentiaries here insist on the impossibility of paying a war indemnity or of ceding the Island of Saghalin, as the Muscovite nation is not so fatigued, is not so deprived of her forces as to welcome a burdensome peace. I will not discuss the chances that we may have in prosecuting the war, as St. Petersburg and Gen. Linevitch will cover that point. But I am completely sure that a deep hope reigns in the people of almost all classes in Russia for a campaign which can modify the condition of the war and exasperate our enemy.

"The imperial manifesto of today can only strengthen my opinion. A nation called to exercise power feels always stronger and surer in itself. The Russian internal troubles, on which Japan has constantly calculated, gradually will terminate, and I foresee in the near future a nation BALTIMORE, Md., August 19.—John Page

The official call for the encampment signed by Commander-in-chief William E. English and countersigned by Col. Russell B. Harrison, adjutant general, was read at the meeting.

It states:

Text of the Call. "The second annual encampment and re union of the United Spanish War Veterans, as announced in the official call, will assemble in Light Horse Squadron Armory ber 7, 1905. The first annual encampment of the amalgamated organization, held at the Louisiana purchase exposition, on September 19 and 20, 1904, was largely attended and has been followed by gratifying zeal, interest and activity. During the past year the growth of our organization in new camps and membership has been phenome nal, and the camps that formed our present organization have renewed in a most pleasing and helpful manner their fealty to our cause, and by the aroused ardor and activity of the members brought about substantial increases of membership, greater influence and generally improved conditions. Therefore the second national en-campment will be even more successful and interesting than the first or St. Louis encampment. Our comrades should realize this fact and make arangements to attend the second annual encampment at Milwaukee, and take with them their wives, daughters and sons, and by such attendance secure fresh inspiration to work in our patriotic, worthy and helpful cause, and at the same time enjoy the delightful and pleasing program of entertainment arranged by the local entertainment committee of Milwaukee." In a communication received by Capt. E. L. Cogan, department inspector, the elaborate preparations that have been made by the Milwaukee arrangements committee of the Spanish war veterans for the recep-tion of the visiting soldiers and their relatives and friends are described.

Program of Entertainment. No charge will be made by the theater managers for the admittance of the visitors to their playhouses. There will be carriage rides, steamboat excursions and a general round of pleasure. Part of the program the action of the President in sending for as prepared by the Milwaukee committees follows:

> "Friday, September 8, at 2 p.m., boat trip on Milwaukee river and bay until 5 p.m. For ladies' escorts and United Spanish War Veterans, national representatives, dele gates and alternates. "Friday. September 8, at 8 p. m., trip to Wonderland, special military program, vau-deville and fireworks, including set pieces of President Roosevelt and prominent military men of the late war." The Washington party will wear a dis-tinctive badge inscribed "Department of the District of Columbia, Washington" It is expected by the committee that a large delegation will go from here and a special car through to Milwaukee may be arranged for.

AFFAIRS IN CRETE. No Serious Trouble From Insurgents is Expected.

LONDON, August 19 .- A prominent official who has for a long time resided in Greece and who has just arrived from that country, speaking to the Associated Press today, said there would be no serious trouble in Crete, as the rising of the insurgents failed in incipiency. Had the leaders achieved any big successes at the sion of a peace treaty I base my argubeginning of the uprising the people, who ments on what seems to be an axiom: That always lean toward the successful side, would all have flocked to the standard of the insurgents. The official believes that the powers should act in unison and adopt drastic arthods one way or the other. If they methods one way or the other. If they intend turning over the island to Greece, which is the earnest desire of the Cretans, steps in that direction should be taken at once, if otherwise then the rebellion against the present government should be suppressed as speedily as possible. FIRE AT PORTLAND EXPOSITION. Two Men Lost Their Lives in Destruction of Inn. PORTLAND, Oreg., August 19.-Fire today destroyed the State Room Inn, situated one block from the main entrance of the Lewis and Clark exposition, and resulted in the death of two men, whose charred bodies have not been identified. A number of the occupants of the place, including four women and two men, were injured. They were removed to hospitals. About thirty persons were in the building when the fire broke out. A search of the ruins revealed no more bodies, and it is believed that only two lives were lost.
